Raleigh, Thursday, February 20, 1868.

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION OF THE CONSERVATIVE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

STATE ORGANIZATION.

A State Committee, to consist of a chairman and thirty members—six of whom shall reside in Raleigh and three in each judicial district—to be appointed by the State Convention.

The committee shall have power to maintain its organization by filling vacancies, &c., and shall take charge of all matters relating to organization, registrations, &c., and a proper canvass of the State.

DISTRICT ORGANIZATION.

The members of the State Committee in each judicial district shall constitute a district Committee for their respective districts and shall appoint a Chairman, and shall take charge of all matters relating to county organization, &c., in their respective districts; and shall report all matters relating thereto, to the Chairman of the State Committee.

COUNTY ORGANIZATION.

It is recommended that each County, by popular meetings or through the medium of existing organization, appoint a County Committee, to consist of at least two persons from each Captain's District within its limits.

The County Committee shall take charge of all matters of registration, local organization, &c., within the County, and is requested to make monthly reports to the Chairman of the District Committee, and when necessary, to inform him of such local matters as may require the attention of the District Committee.

It is further recommended that each County Committee cause to be enrolled the names of all the registered voters of their county, who are willing to act and vote with this organization—no man to be thus enrolled without his express consent; and, also, that they cause to be enrolled on a separate list the names of all those who are entitled to register, but who have not done so, and that they use every exertion to secure their registration and active co-operation.

PLATFORM.

The Conservative people of North Carolina, having by their delegates assembled in Convention at Raleigh, on the 5th of February, 1868, to consider the present anomalous condition of the State, and of the country, and to consult together upon the grievances which now afflict and threaten them, and the course of action proper to be adopted in the trying circumstances which surround them, do resolve and declare

1. Our unalterable devotion to the principles of Constitutional liberty, and our fealty to the government of the United States, as set forth in the Federal Constitution. That we sincerely and in good faith accept the legitimate and legal results of the late war, and do hereby reiterate our oft repeated declaration, that we most heartily desire peace and concord with our sister States, and with the entire people of the United States.

2. Resolved, That regarding the Constitution of the United States as the source of all power in the administration of the government, and that the powers of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial department are equal and co-ordinate, as defined by that instrument, we do respectfully and solemnly protest against the enforcement upon our people, of the Reconstruction Acts, and policy of Congress, as unconstitutional, unwise and destructive to society, and violative of that great principle of American politics, that each State shall have the exclusive control of its own internal offices.

3. Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Convention that the great and all absorbing issue, now soon to be presented to the people of the State, is negro suffrage and negro equality, if not supremacy, and whether hereafter in North Carolina and the South, the white man is to be placed politically and, as a consequence, socially, upon a footing of equality with the negro, and, in many localities, subject to his government as a superior. That we are utterly opposed to such change in our government and in our social relations, and that we do hereby earnestly recommend to the people of the State to manfully meet the issue now attempted to be forced upon them, and to use every proper measure within their power to avert the impending mischief.

4. Resolved, That while we are unalterably opposed to political and social equality with the black race, we yet have no unjust prejudicies against that race, that we are determined, by just laws, to protect them fully in all their civil rights, and to confer upon them all privileges which can be done consistently with the safety and welfare of both races.

5. Resolved, That the distressed and impoverished condition of our people earnestly demands the speediest and wisest measures of relief that the Legislature can devise.

6. Resolved, That this Convention recognizes, with feelings of gratitude, the heroic and patriotic efforts of the President of the United States, to restore the Union and harmony and good will among the American people.

7. Resolved, That this Convention regards the Supreme Court of the United States as the legitimate expounder in the last resort of the Constitution—and believe that its rights and powers, in that respect, should be preserved intact as established by law in the earlier and better days of the republic, and that any serious impairment thereof, by legislation or otherwise, will be destructive to the best interests of the country, and dangerous to the liberties of the people.

8. Resolved, That despairing of any restoration of the Southern States under the conduct of that organization which now controls the proceedings of Congress, waiving all former party feeling and prejudice, this Convention does most unhesitatingly recommend and invite the hearty co-operation of all the good people of North Carolina with the Democrats, and Conservative men of the North and West, who are now nobly struggling for the maintenance of the Constitution of the United States, and the restoration of the Southern States to their rights in the Union, on the solid foundation of harmony and peace.

9. Resolved, That this Convention elect four delegates and four alternates for the State at large, to represent the conservative people of North Carolina in the next Democratic National Convention, and that it recommend to the conservative people of the several Congressional Districts, to appoint delegates at an early day to represent them in said Convention.

10. Resolved, That when an election shall be ordered for the ratification of a new State Constitution, the Executive Committee for the State, hereafter to be appointed by this Convention, be instructed, if the time shall be sufficient to call a Convention of the Conservative people of the State, to put in nomination candidates for the various State offices whose election shall then be ordered, and if there shall not be sufficient time to call said Convention, to put in nomination sound Conservative men for said office.

The North Carolinian.

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land."

WM. A. HEARNE, JNO. W. DUNHAM,
EDITORS.

Raleigh, Thursday, February 20, 1868.

THE debate upon the reports of the committee on Suffrage was resumed in the Convention yesterday morning, Mr. Watts, of Martin, having the floor. The speech made by this delegate developed no new fact or argument in support of the position of the Radical party, favoring the civil, political and social equality of the negro.

Mr. Watts was followed by Hood, negro, of Cumberland, who is undoubtedly the ablest man of his race in the body. Hood's speech was a lengthy and vindictive harangue, in which he declared that any attempt to deprive the 70,000 negroes of the State, of the privilege of suffrage, would lead to a war between the white men of the State and the negroes, or what is practically the same, as he stated, between the Conservatives and Republicans. In the course of his speech he alluded most glowingly and exultantly to the contributions made by the negro race to the arts and sciences in the earlier ages of the world, declaring its indebtedness to the negro for much of the knowledge of those arts, which have most conduced to its comfort and advancement.

We had been taught very differently from this, and saw that the assertions of the reverend delegate were either original discoveries or else the history that we had read had most flagrantly traduced his race. We have believed, and do believe most religiously, in the inferiority of the negro, and have taught that he was incapacitated by want of intellect for an independent or intelligent use of the ballot. We have believed, and still believe, in the undoubted superiority of our own race, and have, therefore, earnestly opposed every proposition looking to the conferring of the privileges we enjoy upon a subordinate.

We remember that the Hon. Mr. Brooks, in a speech made in the House of Representatives most conclusively demonstrated the truth of the opinion held by the white men of the South. We remember also that Mr. Thaddeus Stevens retorted by offering to test the matter by a public debate between Mr. Brooks and Fred. Douglas.

The offer of Mr. Stevens was a most unfortunate one for the theory which he holds, since it is well known that Fred Douglas has white blood in his veins; and it is fair to presume that he derived his mental vigor and susceptibility to improvement from his white parent, especially when we remember that history records no instance in which a genuine negro has evinced any such talent or mental development. Equally unfortunate was Hood's references yesterday in support of his assertions of the capacity of the negro for self-government, since, if we have been correctly informed, in every instance of which he boasted the actors were Egyptians and not negroes.

In all the debates upon this question of negro suffrage, much confusion has been caused by an improper use of the word African. It should be remembered that there are, and have been for centuries, in Africa, races that are not negroes, although having dark skins. Among these are the Egyptians, the Abyssinians and the Moors. These are the peoples to whom the world is indebted for the discoveries in science to which the reverend delegate alluded in his harangue.

Even before the dawn of civilization in the Western world they reared the Sphynx and the Pyramids, displaying architectural skill which still excites the wonder and the admiration of the world. These people belong to the Semitic family, and are not now, nor were they ever negroes; and conclusions, based upon their intellectual development, can have no weight in determining the capacity of the negro for usefulness, if invested with all the privileges of citizenship.

The negro of the Western and Southern coast of Africa and of the interior—the genuine negro—free and untrammelled in his own land, remains now as he was thousands of years ago, a barbarian, having only such implements as answer his rude and untutored wants. He has discovered nothing, invented nothing.—He was a slave to the peoples who surrounded him—to the Egyptians, the Abyssinians and the Moors. In our own country he has made no development, save such as was the result of his contact with a superior race.

Nothing, therefore, can be deduced from the examples cited by Hood, which indeed are but repetitions of those made in all public bodies in which this question has been discussed, supporting the theory of negro suffrage.

The truth is that white men and negroes are distinct beings, differing most widely in physical and mental structure. The distinction is of God's making, and all the efforts of Radical conventions and congresses to destroy it are impious attempts to reverse His decrees by legislation.

THE opposition of the white men of North Carolina, and of the South, to reconstruction upon the terms prescribed by Congress, does not spring from a spirit of hate towards the Federal government. The charges so persistently made that they are rebellious and unwilling to return to the Union upon any terms, are malignant falsehoods, invented by their oppressors to justify the acts of wrong and injustice perpetrated by the Radicals since the close of hostilities in 1865.

We are charged with disloyalty, with stubbornness and pride, because, forsooth, we will not participate in the devilish endeavor to reduce our own race to a thraldom more galling than man has ever endured. Because believing in our very souls, in the superiority of our race, we will not willingly consent to the elevation of an inferior, at the expense of our lives and liberties. We are disloyal, they say, because we will not, by our votes, assist in disfranchising thousands of our fellow-citizens not more guilty of crime than we are, and refusing to aid in any work which will deprive them of their right to participation in the control of the government under which they live. He, who asserts that the white men of North Carolina are disloyal to the government, wilfully and deliberately lies. He lies, knowing at the time of its utterance, that he is traducing men, so vastly his superiors in all the qualities that make men honorable, that he has not the soul capable of appreciating them.

The white men of the South earnestly desire the restoration of their respective States to their positions in the Union. They see and feel the depressing effect of their present condition, and they know that there can be no permanent improvement in that condition until reconstruction be satisfactorily adjusted. But while they know these facts, they also know that that reconstruction which Congress demands will be fatal to our institutions, and destructive of our prosperity. Capital is wary and timid, and it would not seek investment in a community so full of dangers as would be ours, if the negroes of the State were admitted to rule.

THE NIGGER WAKE AT THE CAPITOL.

THE CONGOES BY GAS LIGHT.

(BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTER UNDER THE TABLE.)

[The reader is particularly requested to remember the fact that no Reporter for this paper is allowed on the floor, in the halls or in the galleries of the Convention, and consequently our reports are made from under the table, behind the scenes, or as may be otherwise ordered and convenient.]

THIRTIETH DAY.

TUESDAY EVENING, Feb. 18.

Precisely at 7½ o'clock the great "rootist," Manager Cowles, appeared, and with his usual grace and dignity, unbarred the doors and loosed "the animiles."

The reports of the committee on suffrage were resumed.

Galloway, nigger, of New Hanover, offered a substitute for the entire report, whereupon,

Mr. Candler, the deserter, of Buncombe, grew indignant, and declared that the clay-bank delegate from New Hanover was stealing thunder, belonging to himself and his amiable associate, Abraham Congleton, of Carteret. They were entitled to the honor (?) of having submitted a report proposing the disfranchisement of gentlemen whose servants they are not worthy to be. Galloway's substitute differed only in degree, not kind. It was not so proscriptive as the report introduced by himself and the Carteret hog thief. He therefore suggested to Galloway to strike out and move to insert, rather than offer his plan as a substitute.

Mr. Graham, of Orange, addressed the Convention in opposition to the reports submitted by the committee. He thought it best to determine whether the Convention designed to make negroes white men, or white men negroes. But as it was the intention of the Convention to discuss the majority and the minority reports as a whole, he would proceed to defend minority report No. 2, offered by himself and Mr. Durham.

The gentleman from Chowan (Mr. French) had said that he represented a black constituency, but a comely one. He (Mr. Graham) represented white men, who did not fear to oppose, fairly and squarely, the iniquitous policy of the Radical party. When the question of convention or no convention came before his constituents, fourteen hundred white men said "No Convention." In canvassing his county, he did not seek to deceive the negroes and win their votes. He told them plainly his views in regard to the matter, and was thankful to-day that he received but very few of their votes.

Gentlemen on the other side had said that the late war was waged upon the issue of slavery alone. It was not so. It was waged in defence of certain undoubted, fundamental rights denied to the people of the South, and we had either to fight those bound to us by ties of sympathy and blood, or to fight white yankees. We chose the latter.

The majority report, if carried into effect, would disfranchise 25,000 white men in the State. Some of the Radical gentlemen, and among them the chairman of the committee, were not disposed to favor so sweeping a disfranchisement. He thanked them for small favors, for they had not been very liberal with them. But in other States, controlled by your party, you have, by infamous test oaths, banned their most worthy and enlightened citizens, and required the "should-be free people" to accept, not support, the civil, political and social equality of the negro, thus forcing them to yield their honest convictions. The advocates of negro suffrage say that we base suffrage on intelligence and virtue. True, we do. The voter should be virtuous and intelligent; and the argument that some white men are not so, does not sweep away the distinction that Almighty God created between the races. The white man is the superior of the black in every particular, and he should oppose any and all attempts to abolish that which Providence had done.

The gentleman from Pasquotank, (Mr. Pool,) had said that they had hung their heads in shame when the Northern States had refused to give the negro suffrage. He would tell them that their heads would be hung still lower when the voice of the people of the free States was heard in the next election. The gentleman from Chowan, (Mr. French) had wondered that the young men of this section should cling to dead issues. Did he expect them to cry amen to a policy which disfranchised their friends and kindred, while enfranchising 70,000 ignorant negroes? It was a most tempting bribe he would offer them. Did he think them devoid of self-respect?

Hood, nigger, of Cumberland, asked Mr. Graham if the negroes had a right to vote under the reconstruction acts?

Mr. Graham replied that they had, but not under the law of North Carolina, and that Congress had no right or legal power to dictate to the people of this State, who shall or shall not vote within her boundaries.

Mr. Graham concluded by expressing his desire, not to convince the members of the Radical party present of their folly, but to place himself on record against this sinful, unjust, outrageous and tyrannical measure.

Mr. McDonald, of Chatham, then addressed the Convention in favor of universal suffrage and a general amnesty. He wished to remove the disabilities from all men both white and black. He read largely from the debates in the Convention of 1835.

Mr. Laflin, of New York, Beaufort or Pitt, it is not yet decided which, took the floor. He contended that Congress had a right to say who should not vote in this State, and that men, who had participated in the late revolt, had lost their right to participate in the sovereignty of the nation. At the end of the war the relative positions of the two sections were thus: One was the victor, the other the vanquished. The vanquished had abdicated all rights to participate in the sovereignty of the nation, leaving the balance of power in the hands of the victors. The conquering party had a right to dictate the terms on which the conquered could resume their former relations. He indulged in much laudation of the U. S. government for its magnanimity in its treatment of the Southern people.

Mr. King, of Lenoir, had his effort on this momentous question written. He read from his manuscript, his opinion that test-oaths were infamous. [Mr. King has taken one, and therefore speaks by the card. Which is it that is infamous, Mr. King, the oath or the taker of the oath?] He favored universal suffrage and general amnesty. He did not think it in keeping with the dictates of prudence, or right in principle to incorporate in the constitution, vindictive or proscriptive laws.

Mr. Watts gave notice that he would claim the floor to-morrow, to reply to Mr. Graham.

Leave of absence was granted Mr. Ragland for two days.

The performance here came to a close. The "animiles" crept slowly back to their cages, and soon disposed themselves to rest.

The Cowles Family.

A CAPITOL FARCE!

THIRTY-FIRST DAY.

At 10 o'clock, A. M., the entire Cowles family were assembled to hear the usual morning "Readings" from the North Carolinian.

It is, perhaps, unnecessary to remark that the selections were admirable, and elicited the warmest commendations from the whole household, in spite of their horrible rendition by the whining Harris boy. When the long continued and rapturous applause that greeted the close of the readings had ceased,

Mr. Abbott, of New Hampshire, presented two applications for divorce from parties in Bladen county.

Mr. Rodman also read applications from parties desiring a dissolution of marital obligations.

McDonald, still from Chatham, offered a similar petition from a victimized gentleman of his county. They were all laid over.

Galloway—one-half negro and the balance alligator, according to Hood, entomologist—offered a memorial signed by 50 Wilmington niggers, which was laid over.

Mr. Rodman, of the Judiciary Committee, presented two reports in regard to the divorce cases of Overton and Haynan, along with the ordinances to put the parties asunder. Cowles left his perch, and descending into the ring, made one of his incoherent, irrelevant and characteristic harangues in opposition to the whole matter.

Mr. Jones, of Washington, fully believed that in the adoption of the reports, the ordinances accompanying them were also adopted, and was proceeding to fortify his position, when Hood, Egyptian, raised the point of order, by acquainting Mr. J. that, by his own (Mr. J's.) construction the matter had been disposed of and could not therefore be debated.

Mr. Jones concurred with the Egyptian, but since the house could not understand it he was simply endeavoring to elucidate the matter for the (obtuse) members.

Mr. Heaton, of Ohio, said that the President had made a division of the question, making the adoption of the report and the adoption of the ordinance separate and distinct questions.

The Chair smilingly observed that Heaton's "head was level."

Mr. Jones resuming, read numerous affidavits in regard to the case.

Dr. Cowles deemed it a solemn duty he owed his family (the Menagerie) to advise each member to be exceedingly coy in touching matters purely legislative.

This Konvenshun, discoursed the Doctor, [which combines a great number of specimens of various descriptions and characters in the school of Natural History, and has been collected at the expense of indefatigable research, and a vast outlay of money,] is here for a higher and holier purpose than the investigation of brothel broils and family quarrels. He blushed to think that such dirty matters had been introduced in the Konvenshun. None of the ladies of this city, [nor any other city] have as yet graced this body with their presence, nor will they, so long as we continue to dabble in such dirty work. [An honest confession is good for the soul, Doctor.]

Mr. Ashley, of Holmes' hole—or some other cess-pool—thought it was time to take up the special order.

Mr. Candler, the curly-haired "gent" from Buncombe, moved to defer until a vote was taken on the divorce questions.

Mr. Rodman said that the hour appointed for the special order having passed, Mr. Candler's motion was out of the question.

Mr. Rodman's suggestion did not harmonize with the chairman's idea in that respect.

Mr. Candler demanded the sense of the Konvension on his motion to postpone.

Mr. Ashley moved to table Mr. Candler's motion to postpone, and the motion prevailed.

SPECIAL ORDER—SUFFRAGE.

Mr. Watts now stalked into the arena. He said that people and the histories might talk as they pleased about the mighty eloquence and actions of Demosthenes and Cicero, Julius Cæsar, Scipio, Napoleon, Hannibal, "or any other man," but, after all, there was really just as much difference betwixt these small fry, and such whales as Jeemes Harris, Galloway, Hood, Johnny McDonald, forever from Chatham, et. al., like these, as there was "between h—l and a small sized tar-kiln!"

He desired that this great question of suffrage, which has occupied so much of the valuable time of the Konvension, should be of short duration. Nor did he have the indelicate wish to protract the debates on the matter by any vain display of rhetoric. A stern sense of duty, however, forced him to pronounce the diatribe of Mr. Graham, of Orange, last evening, as paradoxical. He indulged the same old hackneyed and stereotyped sentiments and phrases about the horrid institution of slavery, and wound up this section of his declamation by announcing that the "day star of Liberty was (is) dawning!"

Mr. W. then proceeded in a whining, sophomorical strain to descant upon the priceless blessings of liberty, and even invoked the muses to aid his word-painting in behalf of Freedom for the Nigger! but "nary" word did we hear from the Puritanic humanitarian in behalf of Freedom for White men.

["Thus the Congo-Reconstrucksun,
Filled with designing scoundrels,
Working in congenial darkness,
To prescribe the rights of White men;
Striving, white men's hearts to fetter,
White men's tongues to gag and silence,
White men's homes to wreck and ruin,
White men's hearts to crush forever;
Doing every kindred outrage
In the sacred name of Freedom."]

He capped the climax of his peroration, and the climax of the ridiculous, [Mr. Watts always vibrates to extremes; he is either sublimely stupid or supremely silly,] by hoping that the happy time was coming—almost come, when Radical—Nigger ideas shall prevail all over this Southern country of ours; when the lion and the lamb shall lie down together, and the nigger and the white man ditto; "when the year of Jubilow shall come—the year of Jubilow."

Hood, who, by his own account, is one of Egyptian Pharaoh's "ring, streaked and striped," and none of your Eppes' "horned cattle," next appeared in the ring. Hood looked savage and swarthy. To our young and romantic reportorial eyes, he seemed the very impersonation of Sesostris. His very first words were ponderous and war-like. He said that Congress had given niggers and Egyptians the right to vote, and 70,000 strong (scented) individuals and voters could not be disfranchised without war—a war, contrasted with which, the late rebellion would be mere child's play. They would, come weal or come woe, defend their rights to "the last man and the last ditch." [So said Mr. Holden.] He had heard a great deal about a war of races, but such talk was all "bosh." If there should be another war, it would be between the Radicals and the Conservatives of America; and the Conservatives would be the "under dog" in that fight, sure, inasmuch as the Radicals outnumbered them by four millions. Like Watts, he had much to say about the barbarities inflicted upon the late slaves by their masters, but closed his sermon by expressing his opposition to any disfranchising clause in the State Constitution, as it was a matter that belonged properly to Congress.

Mr. Redman succeeded the Egyptian. Mr. R. said he had been a Confederate soldier. He felt that his position in the Convention was an anomalous one, and thought it due to himself to state the reasons which had caused his change of opinion. He held that when the people of the South made known their acquiescence in the emancipation of the negroes, they tacitly consented to give them suffrage. He was opposed to any proposition to disfranchise any person.

Mr. Congleton, the same old hog-thief of Carteret, delivered himself of a speech, reading from the manuscript. In conclusion, he expressed a "firrum" resolution to follow in the wake of his patron saint, Mr. Pool, the amphibious delegate from Pasquotank.

Galloway, clay-bank Japanese, (vide Hood's speech,) here arose from his seat and moved slowly down the aisle like a Dutch line-of-battle-ship going into action. He "brought to" near the Speaker's desk, opened his ports, run out his artillery and opened his broadsides thusly: In my veins there flows the best Anglo Saxon blood of Old Brunswick, (they say,) but I aint proud of it—none. If I could, in justice to the black blood in my corporosity, let out the white portion, I'd do it 'fore you could say Jack Robinson. [Hari-kari, Galloway—that's the way they do it in Japan; cut your g——liver out, mister Jap.] After firing a few more rounds of blatherschaite and blarney, he drew off under the smoke, when

Mr. Marler obtained the floor and made a very able and logical speech in opposition to nigger suffrage, but as a short synopsis would be inadequate to convey the impregnable positions of the speaker, and our space forbidding its insertion in this issue, we defer its publication a day or two, when our readers may expect it in full.

Ashley again loomed up on the Capitol horizon, this time to disprove the statement of Mr. Marler, that New England ships were the first to engage in the African slave trade.

He said New England was a wild when the first niggers were brought into Virginia, and it was some time subsequent to that event before the Mayflower, with her Pilgrim freight, cast anchor on Plymouth Rock—the great Yankee blarney stone.

Harris, nigger, then announced his determination to electrify the Konvenshun with a speech to-night, and was going on to explain why he preferred night-time to day-time for speech making, when he was interrupted by Laflin, of New York, who presented a report from the Committee, re-districting the Congressional districts of the State.

A motion made to make the report the special order for 10½, A. M., to-morrow prevailed, and the Cowles chickens scattered to re-assemble under the paternal wing at half-past 7 o'clock this evening.

NEWS AND MISCELLANY.

Another report is printed in the papers to-day, alleged to be upon good authority, that General Sherman has written a letter to the President setting forth fully his reasons for advising the Senate not to take cognizance of his nomination to be Brevet General, and also declining to accept the command of the new department, &c. If such a letter has been written, it has not yet reached the President.

Certain newspapers also indicate the brewing of a quarrel, or misunderstanding, between the Executive and General Sherman. There is not the slightest ground for such apprehension.—The President will not, there is reason for saying, attempt to force the brevet appointment upon Gen. Sherman; nor, if the latter is seriously disturbed by the assignment to the command of the new department, is it likely that the President will refuse to hear and possibly grant any respectful request that Gen. Sherman be excused from assuming the command.

When the new department of the Atlantic was suggested to Gen. Sherman, some weeks ago, he gave some reasons of a personal character why he would prefer to be permitted to continue his residence in St. Louis, and others involving questions of taste, against being required to take up his residence in Washington society, though it was understood his wife would not be averse to residing in this city. But there is nothing in this movement of the President, nor in the words or conduct of General Sherman, so far as known in official circles, which warrant the assumption that any difficulty or controversy can arise between the Executive and the Lieutenant-General. The wish seems to have been father to the thought among certain politicians who prognosticate trouble.—Washington Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.

The London Weekly Register, the principal Roman Catholic organ in England, lately foreshadowed a forthcoming conversion to that church, which would cause a greater sensation than any similar event for a long while. The Cork Examiner, of the 1st instant, says: There seems to be a general impression that the individual referred to is the Bishop of Oxford, Dr. Wilberforce, whose sympathies with ritualism are well known. We understand that a private letter has been received in Cork stating distinctly that Dr. Wilberforce has entered the Catholic church, and that the fact is to be announced in London to-day. This being the fact, the assertion of the Weekly Register that the coming accession to the church is the most important one since the conversion of Dr. Newman and Archbishop Manning, is fully borne out. Beyond all question, Dr. Wilberforce is the ablest and most distinguished man in the Church of England.

Senate—The Secretary of the Interior asked an appropriation for the removal of certain disaffected Cherokees on the Red river.

The Judiciary Committee reported in favor of an indefinite postponement of Sumner's and Drake's supplemental reconstruction bills.

The Judiciary Committee has amended the House supplemental bill, making a majority sufficient for ratification of the constitutions in the South.

A resolution was introduced to restore soldiers clothing destroyed, to prevent contagion. Mr. Wilson introduced a bill to restore Alabama.—After the usual preamble, the bill reads:

Resolved, That the constitution of Alabama is hereby declared to be in conformity with the provisions of the Acts to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2nd, 1867; and whenever the legislature elect under said constitution, shall ratify the fourteenth article to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the 39th Congress, the said State shall be declared admitted to representation in Congress, in accordance with the laws of the United States.

A bill was introduced removing Gov. Holden's disabilities.

Senator Thomas' case was resumed. He was rejected by a vote of 28 to 21. Adjourned.

House—The Judiciary Committee reported a bill creating a law department; also a bill surrendering persons guilty and convicted of murder, perjury, assassination, arson and forgery abroad. It authorizes the President to return such parties and to prevent their coming. The bill passed.

The amendment to the appropriation bill continuing the twenty per cent. extra pay to department employees, passed by a vote of 89 to 44 An amendment striking out pay for President's clerks was rejected. The bill was read a third time and passed.

The House went into committee on army appropriation bill. It appropriates 33,000,000. The frequent introduction of Gen. Grant's name as favoring or opposing certain measures provoked objection with considerable feeling. Butler said that the fathers of the Republic only allowed the President to make recommendations. The committee rose.

The President was called on for the Sherman correspondence relative to the new department and Brevet rank. Adjourned.

Gen. O. L. Shepherd, Colonel of the 15th Infantry has been ordered to take command of the sub-district of Alabama.

A Huge One.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.

During the discussion of Senator Thomas' case to-day, Gen. Lee was made a topic. Mr. Cameron stated that he was informed by a gentleman in whom he had confidence, that Gen. Lee having received an intimation that he might have command of the Federal army, assured him of his entire devotion to the country. Mr. Cameron then consulted Gen. Scott, who approved of placing Gen. Lee at the head of the army, and the place was offered him officially. Gen. Lee went to Virginia on the pretence of seeing his family, and never came back. Mr. Cameron said that if he had had a chance, he would have arrested Gen. Lee, but never suspected that he would act perfidiously.

The Hon. Reverdy Johnson doubted the truth of this very much. [Laughter.] Gentlemen might laugh, but he would inform the gentleman who indulged in merriment (Conness, of California) that Gen. Lee was as honorable a man as any man to be found in California.

Mr. Johnson's Reply to the Baltimore Committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.

The President's reply to the Baltimore Municipal Committee was conservative but determined. It developes nothing new. He concluded thus: I repeat that the encouragement given me on this occasion is very acceptable. The stoutest heart, when surrounded by doubts and menaced with perils, needs countenance and support. The kind expressions of approval of the city council of Baltimore sincerely appreciated, will be remembered with gratitude as long as life shall last.

Decision of the Supreme Court of Virginia

RICHMOND, Feb. 19.

The Supreme Court to-day decided the Stay Law unconstitutional and void as regards deeds of trust, which was the only question in the case before it.

Virginia Convention.

RICHMOND, Feb. 19.

The Convention commenced the consideration of the Report of the Committee on Franchise. The first section declares that every male citizen aged 21 years shall vote.

South Carolina Convention.

CHARLESTON, Feb. 19.

The Convention has adoped 80 sections of the new constitution, and will probably complete its work in two weeks.

Florida Convention.

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 19.

The Convention to-day, by a vote of 27 to 17, declared Billings, Saunders, Pearce and Richardson ineligible and their seats vacant.

Billings, by permission, defended his eligibility in a violent speech. Excitement ran high and Billings declared his ability to control the negro vote. The lobbies were crowded by whites and blacks. A minority report declaring Billings and others eligible was rejected. After the Convention adjourned a negro delegate was attacked by a negro supporter of the Billings party and struck for voting for expulsion. One of the assaulting party was shot through the hip by a delegate. The police arrested the parties and the row ended.

Gen. Meade left for Alabama this morning.

Cable Dispatches.

LONDON, Feb. 19.

The Fenian, Allen, who was arrested for complicity in the Clerkenwell explosion, and discharged, has been re-arrested, charged with murder.

Among the nominations sent in to the Senate on Friday was that of W. Gilmore Simms, the Southern novelist, to be United States marshal for the district of South Carolina. Opposition is made to the nomination upon the ground that Mr. Simms took an active part in the rebellion, and it is doubtful if he will be confirmed.—Wash. Star.

At the charter election held at Reading, Pa., last Friday, Dr. Heister M. Nagle, democrat, was chosen city auditor by a majority of 336, a democratic gain of 355 on the vote of last year.

THE

NORTH CAROLINIAN,

A DAILY,

Democratic Newspaper,

PUBLISHED AT

RALEIGH, N. C.

W. A. HEARNE, JOHN W. DUNHAM,

EDITORS.

The NORTH CAROLINIAN is Democratic in its principles. It is unalterably opposed to Negro Suffrage, Military rule, and Reconstruction upon the basis of Congressional enactment. Its Editors believe and teach that this is a

WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT,

FRAMED BY THE BRAINS, AND

WON BY THE BLOOD OF WHITE MEN,

FOR THE BENEFIT OF WHITE MEN,

AND THAT IT SHOULD BE

CONTROLLED BY WHITE MEN ONLY.

As there is but ONE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION professing these sentiments and committed to their maintenance, the NORTH CAROLINIAN will steadily advocate the abandonment of all other party names and organizations, and yield a hearty co-operation with that organization—the NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

THE NORTH CAROLINIAN,

Will contain the freshest News, by telegraph and otherwise. Full reports of all Legislative Assemblies will be furnished its readers.

Particular attention will be paid to State news, and each number will contain a complete epitome of every incident reported in the State press.

MARKETS will be carefully reported.

The Weekly North Carolinian

Is the largest and handsomest paper in the State and will be filled with choice family reading and selected literary matter.

PRICE OF SUBSCRIPTION:

DAILY, one year,	$8 00
" six months,	4 00
WEEKLY, one year,	3 00
" six months,	2 00

Terms—Cash in advance.

We respectfully request our friends in all portions of the State to interest themselves in our behalf.

RATES OF ADVERTISING LIBERAL.

☞ As the North Carolinian retains the subscription list which it had as a semi-weekly at Wilson, it offers superior inducements to advertisers.

All Communications on business should be addressed to

The North Carolinian.

Raleigh, Thursday, February 20, 1868.

☞ The North Carolinian is published every morning in the building North East corner of Fayetteville and Hargett Streets—up stairs.

☞ Entrance under the sign of NICHOLS, GORMAN & NEATHERY, Book and Job Printers.

STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The gentlemen composing the State Executive Committee, are respectfully requested to meet in this city on Friday, the 28th inst., at 11 o'clock. A full attendance is much desired.

By order of the

CHAIRMAN.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

The white men of Halifax assembled at their county seat on Monday last, in response to an announcement made through the columns of the Roanoke News, to organize in accordance with the plan adopted by the Convention of the 5th instant, held in this city. Col. Frank M. Parker was called to the chair, and our contemporary, Stone, of the News, was requested to act as secretary. At the request of the chairman, Richard H. Smith, Esq., explained the object of the meeting and urged the most perfect organization and thorough, earnest work for the defeat of the constitution in course of preparation by the negroes and brevet negroes, who daily pollute the capitol. Eloquent and able speeches were made by Gen. M. W. Ransom, Col. Wm. A. Jenkins, Edward Conigland, Esq., and the Hon. Asa Biggs. The addresses expressed the hearty sympathy of these true sons of the State in the effort making for her redemption, and their determination to do everything within the compass of their ability to aid in this great work of love. Mr. Conigland announced his intention to thoroughly canvass the county previous to the day of election—an example we commend to all the public men of the State as worthy of their imitation.

The greatest harmony and enthusiasm pervaded the meeting. The white men of Halifax will give an account of themselves, on the day of the election, worthy of North Carolina, and Radicalism, like Rachel, weeping for her children, will refuse to be comforted because they are not—politically.

WE cheerfully transfer to our columns the following complimentary allusion to the "Land We Love" and its editor, Major General D. H. Hill. Gen. Hill's exposure of Pollard's wicked attempt to injure and defame him was thorough and conclusive. The article we give appeared in the Sentinel on the Border—a Democratic journal published in the very far West:

General D. H. Hill, editor of "The Land We Love," has, in the February number of his able and interesting periodical, very successfully ventilated the wordy and pretentious charlatan, E. A. Pollard, who assumes to be the Southern historian of the war. He exposes the mendacity, unfairness and unreliability of this verbose and wordy writer. But the duty that General Hill assumed for himself was scarcely necessary. The people North and South have already come to recognize Pollard as a vain, prejudiced, unprincipaled and illiberal writer. He never saw a field of battle, and yet pretends to criticize the leading Generals who were actively engaged throughout the struggle. He was a second rate common scold in the columns of the Richmond Examiner during the war. Then he engaged himself in gross and violent abuse of President Davis and the leaders of the Confederacy. Recognized by no one as worthy of attention, he imagined himself a slighted individual, and has attempted to blacken the fame of dead and living heroes. He is a pestilential newspaper virago, and the manufacturer of false books.

The defence of General Hill against the aspirations of such a man is not needed. The whole South prized the great and good North Carolina soldier as one of its chief jewels. The entire nation regards him with honor and esteem. From the first victory of the war at Big Bethel, in May, 1861, to its close in gloom and snow, Gen. D. H. Hill was ever a foremost soldier in the fire-front of battle. His character has long been established, and his memory will be cherished by posterity after the name of Pollard and similar fellows is consigned to a just oblivion.

The story of the "Lost Dispatch," to which special reference is made, and from the intimations and attacks concerning which the General so successfully vindicates himself and corps, is not a new one to us. It was for a time currently reported, but every true man scouted it as wholly unworthy of credence. Had every man at the South conducted himself with the wisdom and the gallantry of Hill, and not skulked cowardly, as did Pollard and his tribe, there would have been no "Lost Cause," and the world would never have suffered the infliction of such books as Pollard has given.

In conclusion, we would call the especial attention of our readers to an article in the February number of "The Land We Love," General Hill's able magazine, entitled, "The Lost Dispatch," which is a complete refutation of Pollard's slanders.

CITY AND STATE.

Death of an Old Citizen.

Wm. H. Hood, Esq., for many years a member of the Special Court for this County, and since the late war its presiding justice, died at his residence in the county, yesterday morning, aged about 60.

The Court adjourned upon the announcement of his death as a mark of respect.

A Cowardly Assault.

We are informed that Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms Ball, made a cowardly assault upon a one-armed man at the Capitol last night, because forsooth he dared to express his opinion of the body of which Ball is a distinguished ornament.

ESCAPE OF A NOTORIOUS THIEF.—The Anderson (S. C.) Intelligencer requests its exchanges in this State and South Carolina to inform their readers of the escape, from the officers of the law, of Bob Thompson, a notorious burglar and horse thief. He sprang from the cars on the Greenville and Columbia railroad on the 6th instant and eluded recapture. He is about 25 years of age, five feet six or seven inches high, blind in one eye, having the lid partly closed, has very black hair like an Indian, and is considerably marked by small-pox. He is a daring scoundrel. A reward of twenty-five dollars is offered for his arrest by John R. Cochran, of Anderson. We publish the warning for the benefit of our readers in the West, as he was making his way towards this State.

We learn from the Wilmington Star that Dr. S. B. Carr has recovered from the ruins of his dwelling many valuable articles used in the practice of his profession. The Dr. also found a small iron safe, which contained the records of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of North Carolina, of which body he is the Grand Scribe. The contents were uninjured.

The Wilmington Star notices, with pleasure, that the receipts of cotton, in that city, last week, from the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad amounted to 500 bales. The road is only a little more than half finished, and has not yet tapped the most productive counties on its route.

The Spring Session of the Goldsboro Female College opened on Monday last. The new President, Professor E. W. Adams, is an able and faithful teacher and we trust that the institution over which he presides will receive a liberal patronage from the generous people of Eastern North Carolina.

Messrs. R. H. Smith, J. H. Whitaker, W. A. Daniel, R. B. Parker and E. A. Thorne were, on Monday, elected the Special Court for the county of Halifax.

W. W. Brickell was unanimously re-elected County Trustee.

The Goldsboro News speaks most gloriously of the rally of the White Men of old Wayne, reported in the Carolinian of yesterday.

Hunnicutt, the delectable cuss of Virginia, and Hawxhurst have amicably arranged their little differences springing from gubernatorial aspirations held by each. Hawxhurst is to be Governor of the old Dominion, and Hunnicut will go to Congress from the Richmond district.

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES OF SCROFULA. READ THE STATEMENT BELOW, AND DESPAIR NOT.

WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE:
Dear Sir—My youngest daughter, aged five years, has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many Physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, most of them said there was no hope of cure.—During the last Spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rosadalis. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well.
I am, sir,
Yours, with respect and gratitude,
W. W. BURNETT.

ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES.

WILSON, N. C., Sept. 15, 1867.

DR. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir:—In 1862 my son, now aged five years, was vaccinated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was prescribed by my family physician—Dr. A. D. Moore. After taking it a few weeks, my son became and remains entirely well.
Yours truly,
J. B. DANIEL.

CHRONIC LIVER COMPLAINT CURED.

This is to certify that I was cured of Chronic Liver Complaint by Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis, after having been confined to my bed and house for a long time, and trying various medicines without benefit.
I know of several others in this County, cured through the use of the Rosadalis, and it can be found in nearly every house in my neighborhood, and they all praise it as a great medicine.
THOMAS THORN.

HEWES & WARNER,

Raleigh, Thursday, February 20, 1868.

The following lines were written during the war, and are full of exquisite pathos. Timrod's "Mother's Wail" is scarcely more touching and beautiful:

BABY LOOKING OUT FOR ME—JULIAN.

Two little busy hands patting on the window;
Two laughing, bright eyes looking out at me;
Two rosy-red cheeks dented with a dimple;
Mother-bird is coming; baby, do you see?

Down by the lilac bush, something white and azure
Saw I in the window as I passed the tree:
Well I knew the apron and the shoulder-knots of ribbon,
All belonged to baby, looking out for me.

Talking low and tenderly
To myself, as mother's will,
Spake I softly, "God in Heaven
Keep my darling free from ill;
Worldly gain and worldly honors
Ask I not for her from Thee,
But from want, and sin, and sorrow,
Keep her ever pure and free."

* * * * * * *

Two little waxen hands
Folded soft and silently;
Two little curtained eyes
Looking out no more for me;
Two little snowy cheeks,
Dimple-dented nevermore;
Two little trodden shoes,
That will never touch the floor;
Shoulder ribbon softly twisted;
Apron folded, clean and white;
These are left me, and these only,
Of the childish presence bright.

Thus He sent an answer to my earnest praying;
Thus He keeps my darling free from earthly stain;
Thus He holds the pet lamb safe from earthly straying;
But I miss her sadly by the window pane,
Till I look above it; then, with purer vision,
Sad, I weep no more the lilac bush to pass;
For I see her, angel, pure and white and sinless,
Walking with the harpers on the sea of glass.

Two little snowy wings
Softly flutter to and fro;
Two tiny, childish hands
Beckon still to me below;
Two tender angel eyes
Watch me ever earnestly;
Through the loopholes of the stars
Baby's looking our for me.

The State of Oregon.

Bishop Kavanaugh, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has recently been on a visit to Oregon and California. He speaks of Oregon as follows:

"The population of Oregon is chiefly from Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin. The political feeling has never been so rabid there as in California; the public mind sympathizes more with us, and our prospects are good. We have only a few preachers in Oregon—only fifteen in the Conference. The population is of a good character. The people are better supplied with property than is usual in a new country. A living is easily made; it is a fine country for poor men; farms are cheap and the soil is good. They raise mostly small grain and some corn. He was astonished to find so much wealth in our church for a new Conference and country. Nearly every man is in comfortable circumstances. All the means of living are abundant, but money is very scarce. Fruit grows rapidly there. A man may plant an orchard and eat fruit from the trees the second year. Peaches do better in California than Oregon. The whole country is a vast stawberry bed; they grow in the woods, and when a forest is removed, they flourish wonderfully. Other berries are abundant. The 'thimble berry,' somewhat resembling a strawberry, is the finest fruit of the berry kind he ever ate; it almost melts in the mouth, and has the most delicious flavor. It grows on a bush about two or three feet high.

Some men who reached Oregon with only a few dollars, now have thousands of acres of land, and farms stocked with cattle and horses, &c. The horses are very fine, large, finely formed and powerful, equally valuable for riding, working and driving. The latitude is that of Wisconsin and Michigan, but on account of its contiguity to the Pacific Ocean, and being swept by winds from the South, the climate is very mild, the winters are warm, ice for putting up is not often made. In September the grass springs afresh and grows all winter; stock graze the winter through and are never fed. The greatest objection to winter is the long-continued drizzling rains. In summer the climate is most delightful; it is done up to your taste. It is just warm enough to foster vegetation and advance it to maturity, and be very pleasant by day and by night to the people.

The country is partially timbered and partly prarie. The fir tree abounds there, tall and heavy. One is inspired with a feeling of solemnity in passing through one of the great forests of fir. One man said he always "felt like taking off his hat" to the grand old trees when he entered a forest assembly of them. There are many grand and commanding scenes. From one elevation he looked upon seven snow-capped mountain peaks, in summer. One of them—Mount Hood—is reputed to be 1,700 feet higher than any other mountain in the United States. The water in Oregon, whether in wells, springs, creeks or rivers, is the finest in the world. It is as clear as the air and as cold as can be desired. The surface of the country is mountain and valley, with some undulations contiguous to the mountains. One annoyance to farmers is the fern, which has a long root and is difficult to be destroyed when well set. The streams abound with the finest fish; the forests and praries with wild game, as deer, and fowls and birds of different kinds.

Swear to Anything.

L'Estrange tells the following apposite story: 'A gentleman that had a suit in Chancery was called on by his counsel to put in his answer, for fear of incurring a contempt. 'Well,' says the Cavalier, 'and why is not my answer put in there?' 'How should I draw your answer,' quoth the lawyer, 'without knowing what you can swear?' 'Plague on your scruples, says the client again, 'pray do you the part of a lawyer, and draw me a sufficient answer; and let me alone to do the part of a gentleman, and swear it.''

Should any of our heard-swearers feel troubled in their tender consciences, and fancy that they have 'foulded their souls' by taking the iron clad oath—for office—they are respectfully commended, for consolation, to the new Gospel dispensation above quoted. Let them only continue to be truly loil, and the loaves and fishes will continue to come.

The Word "Welcome."

This word is derived from the Saxon wilcuma, the meaning of which is, "Your coming pleases me." Our Saxon forefathers knew the word right well; their hospitality was proverbial. Rude though they were as compared with the Normans, they were at least honest and sincere—qualities of which the wily Norman was sadly deficient. Scott speaks of their hospitality, when Cedric the Saxon is made to say of Prior Aymer and Brian de Bois Guilbert, "Well, it is but for one night; they shall be welcome. Oswald, broach the oldest wine-cask; place the best meat, the mightiest ale, the most sparkling cider upon the board, fill the largest horns. Let welcome make amend for hard fare."

Bad Spell.

A shopkeeper having a hogshead to sell,
A paper affixed with a nail,
And, being unable correctly to spell,
Thereon he had written "for sail."

But shortly a schoolboy along the street came.
Who chancing the paper to spy,
After pointing the pencil, wrote under the same,
"For freight at the bunghole apply."

40 YEARS.

DEEMS' Southern Hepatic Pills, are made and sold by the discoverer, that old and well-tried remedy for all diseases caused by DISEASED LIVER, which is attended with all the symptoms of Consumptions. In 1825 the Discoverer was reduced to a mere skeleton, and was pronounced by three of the most skillful physicians of one of our largest cities, to be in an advanced stage of Consumption, and beyond cure. He then began to try experiments on himself, and after many efforts discovered (by the help of an Indian) the remedy which wrought in him a perfect cure. He is now in the 78th year of his age, and at this advanced stage of life retains an excellent constitution. In 32 years itinerating in the ministry, he has seen more than a thousand persons, who were given up to die of Consumption as beyond cure, dragging out a miserable existence, not knowing what ailed them, they were cured by these Hepatic Pills, and afterwards enjoyed the most perfect health.

There is in these Pills a peculiar combination with an article which has probably never before been used as a medicine. They are highly strengthening, and mild in their action on the bowels. In the preparation of these very superior and excellent Pills, no cost or trouble is spared to insure the greatest possible degree of perfection, in point of utility, excellence and comfort; the advantage in these Pills, therefore, is that a cure must be radical and complete, without the necessity of incorporating such drugs into our Pills as to break down the system in one part to remove the disease in another, and leave the patient to groan under worse diseases than heretofore. Where these Pills are known, especially in the Southern States, where they have been used so extensively, they need no recommendation, their merits are so well known by their results, which has given them a reputation that has brought them into great demand. They are therefore destined to be, at no distant day, the only remedy recognized and used by the people where billious diseases are so prevalent.

They can be sent to any point in the United States by mail or express.

Price –25 cents per box, $2 50 per doz. By the gross, $18. The cash must either accompany the order for the Medicine, or it will be sent C. O. D. Address

LATEST NEWS TO THE FARMERS OF North Carolina.

Your attention is called to my large stock of Agricultural Implements, Iron Steel, &c., &c.

Corn and Cotton Planters, Corn Shellers, Hay, Shuck and Corn Stalk Cutters, Fan Mills, Plows, of every kind, Harrows and Cultivators, Spades, Shovels Forks, Brier Hooks, Iron Axles, Springs, Cart & Wagon Boxes, &c.

I call particular attention to BILLUP'S CENTREBOARD COTTON SCRAPER, and to BILLUP'S DIXIE PLOW. The first is warranted to be the best Scraper ever yet invented, and the Farmers are requested to test its merits in connection with any other kind. The Dixie Plow is freer from choking than any other yet made; will pass through the ground with less power, and do better work than any other kind. This is no vain boast. 'Tis easy to claim superiority; hence I ask a trial.

If Farmers are not satisfied, the money will be refunded.

We call special attention to our Fine Stock of

PAPER-HANGINGS,

CORNICES AND CURTAIN GOODS.

Our stock of the above goods is one of the most

COMPLETE AND EXTENSIVE

South of New York. It embraces all grades and the most RECENT STYLES.

Our prices are as low as can be purchased North, and we most respectfully solicit a call. We hold out extra inducements to Country Merchants, and we can fill orders on the most accommodating terms.

OUR CARPET AND OIL CLOTH DEPARTMENT

is on the lower floor—our store being 30 feet wide and 175 feet deep, and our stock comprises all grades of goods in this line, from the very cheapest Domestic to the very finest Brussels or Velvet Carpeting. We can offer especial inducements to Merchants—we will sell Carpets, Oil Cloths, &c., as low as any house in the country. We have our goods manufactured especially for us with particular regard to the style and quality best suited to our trade.

Our stock of

FLOOR AND TABLE OIL CLOTH

is the finest in this State. We have constantly on hand all widths, from 18 inches wide to 24 feet wide.

OUR FURNITURE WARE-ROOMS

are on the second floor. Our main room is the Hall, which is the handsomest and largest exhibition room in the South. It is 150 feet long by 60 feet wide. There we display the greatest variety of Household Furniture to be found South of Philadelphia, and we guarantee to compete in price, style and quality of work with any house in the country.

We call especial notice to our

PAPER-HANGING AND WINDOW SHADE DEPARTMENT.

We are constantly in receipt of all the newest designs of both Foreign and Domestic Papers.

BORDERS AND FIRE SCREENS, SHADES, constantly on hand and made to order.

Our facilities for business are unsurpassed by any house, either North or South, and we invite the attention of housekeepers and the trade to our establishment, as we feel confident they will not fail to satisfy themselves that the above goods can be purchased on as favorable terms as at the North. Very Respectfully,

PROSPECTUS OF THE WESTERN VINDICATOR.

On or before the 1st of March, prox., the undersigned will commence the publication of a weekly newspaper bearing the above title, in the town of Rutherfordton, N. C.

The Western Vindicator, as its name signifies, will be devoted to the support of Western interests and the dissemination of useful intelligence, selected with especial reference to the wants of the section it will labor to represent.

Politically, it will, for the present, adhere to no party organization; but will give a cheerful support to all measures looking to the speedy restoration of the Union, the preservation of the Constitution intact, the supremacy of the white race, and the perpetuity of Republican liberty in America.

The "Vindicator" will have a larger circulation in Rutherford, Polk and Cleaveland counties than any other newspaper. Advertising rates low.

Terms—$2 per annum.
